THURSDAY MORNING, OCT. 1, 1863.

Mr. Harding's Position.

The Marysville Appeal, one of the most loyal and intelligent papers on this coast, has the following comments upon the Senator's letter, which we quote as an evidence that we were not alone in our views as recently expressed. Indeed the Appeal goes much further than we did in criticism as the reader will perceive, for it says that while "it is evident that some injustice has been done to Mr. Harding, it is apparent that he is rather an equivocal supporter of the Administration, and can hardly be relied upon to stand by it in dealing with the great problem of emancipation which the war has forced upon it and compelled it to solve. Possibly the Senator may yet awake to the necessity of meeting this issue squarely, and will yet be found giving his cordial assistance to the only policy that can restore peace and unity to the country as a permanent blessing. As to his ridiculous supposition of a war for abolition after the seceded States shall have offered to return—it was hardly worthy of his position to have raised such a man of straw for the fun of fighting it, even in a private conversation. He admits that the President is not such an abolitionist as that, nor does he charge any member of the Administration with being such a creature. The speculation was therefore purely gratuitous. Every intelligent person knows the Government will give the country peace whenever the insurgents stop fighting it; that's the Union platform and policy."

Correction.—The Warden of the Penitentiary has paid into the treasury, as receipts from convict labor for the year past, $2,000 and reports on hand, material and other assets, about $1,700. The expenses of the institution for the year are not far from $6,000, a sum $4,000 less than estimated by the Legislature. The balance against the State is thus, $2,300.

We are informed by the energetic Warden that the above statement from the Statesman is not entirely correct. The facts are that in June he paid to the Treasurer $500, and in September $2,000; that there are at least $1,200 due to the Penitentiary for work performed, and $1,200 worth of materials, etc., is now on hand, which belongs to the State. So that the earnings may be justly set down at $4,900. Only $1,100 of the appropriation therefore have actually been expended—a very creditable result, when compared with the work of previous years.

Another Fleet of Ironclads to be Built—the Most Powerful War Vessels Afloat. Notwithstanding the numerous vessels added the Navy within the past two years, the work of construction is still to go on. The Navy Department has just decided to build another fleet of ironclad vessels. They will be longer and more formidable than any now in the service of this or any country—being in fact perfect copies of the great Ericsson ocean steam ships Puritan and Dictator, which are now building in New York. This last new batch of vessels are to be the most perfect in the Navy; and in order to render them unexceptionable in every way, they are to be built at the Navy yards of New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Portsmouth. Naval constructors alone are superintending them. Work on the vessels will soon commence. Each will have two turrets of enormous thickness, and the side armor will be some feet in thickness.

Army News.—The dispatch this morning does not confirm the reports current on the streets yesterday as to the killing of General Burnside and the capture of his army. We hope those who with black and infamous treason in their hearts, rejoiced at the rumor of the death of the brave and noble soldier and true hearted patriot will now hide their heads in shame, while the loyal and honest lovers of the Union will rejoice with us that as yet at least, no such terrible affliction has visited us. God grant it may never come! Doubtless the situation of our troops is perilous, but their bravery and sagacity will, we trust—we feel sure—overcome all dangers.

Arrived.—The bark Samuel Merritt, Jos. Williams commander, arrived yesterday. She left San Francisco September 18th, and was nine days to Astoria. First six days out she had light winds and calms, thence had light south winds and fine weather. The following is her manifest:

Letter List.—The letter list and other interesting reading matter will be found on the fourth page this morning.

Constitutionality of the Draft.—General Dix on the 17th of August, made an earnest and patriotic appeal to the citizens of New York to sustain the Conscription, and so redeem the name of their city and contribute to a speedy ending the war. He said as to the constitutionality of the Conscription act:

Whatever objection there may be to the law authorizing the draft, whatever defect it may have, it is the law of the land, and resistance to it is revolt against the constituted authorities of the country. If any one law can be set at defiance, any other may be and the foundations of all government may be broken up. Those who, in the history of political societies, have been the first to set themselves up against the laws, have been the surest victims of the disorder which they have created. The poor have a far deeper interest in maintaining the inviolability of the law than the rich. Property, through the means it can command, is power. But the only security for those who have little more than life and labor of their own hands to protect lies in the supremacy of the law. On them and on those who are dependent on them, social disorder falls with fatal effect.

The constitutionality of the law authorizing the draft has been disputed. Near the close of the year 1814, when the country was engaged in war with Great Britain, a similar law was recommended to Congress by the Government to draft men to fill the ranks of the army, which was gallantly battling, as our armies are now, for the nation's honor and life. Madison, one of the great expounders of the Constitution, which he took a prominent part in framing, was President. Monroe, then acting both as Secretary of State and Secretary of War, addressed to the House of Representatives a lucid argument in support of the right of Congress to pass such a law. Alexander J. Dallas was Secretary of the Treasury; William Jones, Secretary of the Navy; Return J. Meiggs, Postmaster General, and Richard Rush, Attorney General. The measure could not have received a higher party sanction. All laws passed with the established legislative forms are valid until declared otherwise by judicial tribunals of competent jurisdiction. What would become of a people in criminal emergencies if no law could be carried into effect until it had passed the ordeal of the courts, or if State or municipal authorities could arrest its execution by calling in question its conformity to the provisions of the Constitution? The President has promptly consented to have it tested by judicial interpretation; but while the car of victory is moving on and treason flying before it, God forbid that the State of New York, or its constituted authorities, should attempt to stay its progress until the judicial process can be consummated.

The Words of a Soldier.—Major Joseph Smith, of the 5th regiment of C. V., stationed at Fort Stanton, New Mexico, is now in command of two companies of cavalry and two of infantry, engaged in punishing the Apaches. He writes to the editor of the Yreka Journal, under date of August 5th a letter from which we make the following extract. His words have the ring of the drawing of a battle sword from its scabbard:

In my opinion, Abraham Lincoln is the man for the times, and when he is straining every nerve to re-establish our Union, and support and maintain that Constitution which is and always has been a shield and protection to the outcasts and refugees of all despotic powers on the face of the earth, furnishing a safe home beneath the folds of the flag and under the protection of that Constitution, it is I think, every man's duty who would bear the name of American, to render him and the Government all the assistance that they possibly can. If they have money, give it to the support of the Government; if they are strong and able-bodied men, go to the field, take a musket and fight. This is the way to show patriotism, and not to come on some street corner to talk about the Administration and the war, when really there is no danger. This talk is the loudest and of the least consequence. If we were to fail in this war, it would result in a terrible state of things—it would be a death blow to civil and religious liberty throughout the world. Republican governments would indeed have proved to be a farce, and self government have passed forever, for there is no other nation dare say self government. Everything that our great statesmen have labored for, for nearly a century, would be gone—free speech, freedom of the press and all our liberal institutions would be lost in the general chaos, and we would again be back in the dark ages.

But fail in this war—never, as long as the eternal wheels of time continue to roll on! There is no such word for the American patriot as fail. Fail when we have a million of men in arms, make all our munitions of war, and have grain and provisions enough in store to feed the starving millions of Europe—never, never! Fail, oh no! Rather that every man was arrayed in battle, and that every plain might drink the blood of our countrymen, than one foot of these States and Territories should be desecrated by a permanent government such as the traitors Davis & Co. pretend to have.

Handsome Compliment.—The Burlington Hawk Eye gives the old Pub. Func. the following first rate notice, based upon his wrath, at the discovery and exposure of his infamous and treasonable correspondence with the Satan of the rebellion. It is bitter, but just, and will be cordially endorsed by every one, who despises treachery and loves the Union:

Old Buchanan is reported to be terribly excited about the discovery of his correspondence with Jeff. Davis. The old villain need not alarm himself. There isn't any possibility of his finding a deeper perdition than that which he is now suffering. Every body is satisfied of his complicity with the traitors from the beginning. The positive proof might show, and how deeply, he trod the path of treason and what reward he expected from the conspirators. But it would not heighten his infamy in the minds of any observer of past and current events. So he need not alarm himself. No attempt will probably be made to punish him, though the proof should be as distinct as the sun at noon-day. He will be permitted to live out his allotted span, an object of contempt and loathing among men, his mere existence being the severest punishment that can be inflicted. He need not dread the halter, much as he may deserve it. That will be reserved for the more daring villains of whom poor "old Buck" was the pliant and willing tool. Men will execrate his memory, but they will not take the trouble to hang a creature they so heartily despise.

Advice to Oregonians.—If you hev got a real good wife, keep perfectly still, and think God every twenty minits for it.

Even Brigham Young's wives are affected with the military spirit; they call their husband Briggy dear.

Additional Eastern News.

New York, Sept. 22.—A special dispatch to the Post says: The Government received intelligence from Gen. Rosecrans' army this morning. This news is of a more cheering character than that previously received. The Government has made preparations for meeting every contingency that is likely to occur in the field of Rosecrans' operations.

Washington, Sept. 22.—An unofficial dispatch from Chattanooga to an army officer speaks of the engagement on Monday the 21st when Longstreet's corps attacked Gen. Thomas, as a complete Union victory. The fact that Gen. Thomas was able to join Rosecrans at Chattanooga on Monday, the 21st, has received confirmation by this dispatch.

According to an official dispatch received here, dated 5 o'clock on yesterday, 21st inst., Rosecrans had information that Longstreet's corps reinforced Bragg's previous to the battle on Saturday, 19th; and it was subsequently stated by deserters from the rebel army that Ewell's corps had also come to his assistance.

A telegram received here to-day from an officer in command at Chattanooga speaks in the most encouraging terms of the general result of the action of Saturday and Sunday—in which, according to his representation the Union army achieved a substantial success.

Prisoners taken say that Mobile has been stripped of troops for Bragg's army, and that some troops have been sent from Charleston.

The World's special dispatch says: Halleck has given an order for the Army of the Potomac to move forward. The enemy is understood to be fortifying the approaches to Orange Court House and Gordonsville. Lee's whole army is estimated now to be composed of the two Hill's command and Hook's division of Longstreet's corps, with Stuart's cavalry—making an aggregate of 40,000 men.

The Post's letter from Washington, dated Sept. 22, says: Meade's army is undoubtedly moving upon Gordonsville, and it would surprise no one here to learn that a battle will be fought between him and Lee before Sunday.

The Herald's Charleston Harbor letter says: All quiet. A great deal of work of an important character is being done, the nature of which cannot at present be told, but the results of which will soon develop themselves.

A gale occured on Wednesday the 16th, and continued until Thusday. Tents were blown down and the occupants exposed for some time to the fury of the storm. The vessels in the harbor pitched violently, many dragging their anchors. Fortunately none went ashore.

A late Charleston Courier says the rebel steamer Sumter sunk between Moultrie and Sumter a few days since.

Washington, Sept. 22.—The Evening Star has accounts as follow, evidently derived from official sources: On Saturday, 19th, a demonstration was made by the rebels in strong force, which appears to have been repelled by Thomas' corps, with advantage to the Federal side. On Sunday, 20th, the engagement commenced at 9 A. M., but no considerable firing took place till 10 o'clock. Previous to 10 o'clock, Rosecrans rode along the whole length of the line. Soon after the battle commenced Gen. Thomas, who held the left, began to call for reinforcements. About 12 o'clock word came that he had been forced to retire. The second line of reinforcements were sent to him and McCook's whole corps, which was on the right, and the reserve of the centre was also sent. Gen. Wood, of Crittenden's corps, and Van Cleve, who held the front in the centre, were also ordered to the left, where the fury of the cannonade showed that the enemy's force was massed. Their places were filled by Davis and Sheridan of McCook's corps; but hardly had these divisions taken position when the rebel fire, which had slackened, burst out in immense volleys on the centre. This lasted about 20 minutes, and then Van Cleve, on Thomas' right, was seen to give way, and in a tolerably short time the lines of Reynolds' division broke in disorder, borne down by the enemy, which are said to have consisted of Polk's corps. These two divisions were the only ones thrown into much disorder. Van Cleve's troops were thrown into confusion, but soon rallied, and were placed on the left and then on the right of Thomas' corps. Davis and Sheridan, late in the day, succeeded in rallying about 8,000 of their forces, and joined Thomas. Thomas finding himself cut off from the right, brought his divisions into position for independent fighting—his line assuming the form of a horse shoe along the crest of a wooded ridge. He was soon joined by Gen. Granger, from Rossville, with the division of Gen. Marks, and Gen. Steadman's forces, and maintained the fight until after dark. Our troops were as immovable as the rocks they stood upon. The enemy repeatedly hurled against them the close columns which routed Davis and Sheridan in the morning, but every onset was repulsed with dreadful slaughter. Failing first at one and then at another point of the line, the rebels for hours vainly sought to break them. Gen. Thomas seemed to have filled every soldier with his own unconquerable valor, and Gen. Granger, his hat torn by bullets, rode wherever the combat was thickest. Every division commander bore himself gloriously. Among them, Turchin, Harker and Park especially distinguished themselves. Turchin charged through the rebel lines with the bayonet, and being surrounded, forced his way back again. Gen. Park had two horses shot under him on Saturday, 19th, and forming his men in one line, he made them lie down until the enemy were close upon them, when suddenly they rose and delivered their fire with such effect that the assaulting column fell back in confusion, leaving the ground covered with killed where they fell. Gen. Thomas retired to Rossville on Sunday night, and brought off his wounded. Of the sick and wounded at Cornish Springs, including our wounded in the hospital, nearly all were brought away. The number of prisoners taken by the enemy will hardly surpass two thousand, besides the wounded, of whom not more than 1,000 could have fallen into their hands. Of the rebel prisoners we sent 1,300 to Nashville. Most of our losses of artillery were occasioned by the killing of the horses.

In the last two assaults our troops fought with the bayonet, their ammunition being exhausted. The latest information that has reached this city is from Chattanooga the 21st, and was to the effect that Rosecrans could concentrate at Chattanooga that night, the same number as he had engaged with the enemy prior to 5 P. M., on the 20th. It was therefore questionable whether he would be able to reach Chattanooga last night. There were indications that the enemy was contemplating a demonstration on another part of our line last night.

Sandy Hook, Sept. 22d.—French papers say that two clipper steamers are building at Nantes, and two at Bordeaux, it is suspected for the Confederates.

The Paris correspondent of the Morning Herald repeats the assertion that recognition and an offensive and defensive league between the French, Confederate and Mexican Governments has been decided upon.

Most men espouse a party as an Indian espouses a wife—not to serve it, but to make it serve them.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to September 25.

Chicago, Sept. 25th.—Special dispatches from Washington say, the portion of the Army of Potomac which crossed the Rapidan on Wednesday has returned, having effected the object of the movement. The enemy were encountered in considerable force and several skirmishes occurred, which resulted in quite a large number of killed and wounded.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Advices received to-day from the Army of the Cumberland say our wounded in the late battles before Chattanooga were conveyed to hospitals at Stevenson and Bridgeport, whence they will be taken to Louisville as they are physically able to be removed.

Washington, Sept. 25.—A letter from the Army of the Potomac says Buford, with a portion of his division, encountered the rebel cavalry three miles beyond Madison Court House on Thursday. After a spirited fight they forced them across the Rapidan to the Gordonsville pike. Our loss was one killed and 20 wounded. We took 45 prisoners. In the skirmish on the upper Potomac on Thursday 34 rebels were killed and wounded.

Fortress Monroe, Sept. 23.—The Richmond Examiner has the following:

Charleston, Sept. 20.—Nothing unusual transpiring. The enemy's works on Morris Island are rapidly increasing in extent and strength.

Zollicoffer, (Va.) Sept. 20.—Gen. Cooper (Federal) made a demonstration on us yesterday and was repulsed. My cavalry followed him to Bloomsburg, six miles from here. Their force engaged is believed to have been 2,000, all mounted, with six pieces of artillery.

Sam'l Jones, Major Gen'l.

New York, Sept. 25th.—Money easy and firm. Sterling 151. Gold closed quiet at 38¼.

The Commercial's Washington special says: Gen. Patrick, Provost Marshal for the Army of the Potomac, is about to take the field. Brig. Gen. Terry has been tendered the Provost Marshalship in place of Gen. Patrick. Confidence is felt in the army that if an advance is made it will be successful.

Washington, Sept. 25.—A telegram from Rosecrans last night says he made a reconnoissance in force along the enemy's line and found them in force. The enemy did not resist the advance of our reconnoitering column which returned to quarters after having accomplished the object of the movement, which proved important.

Louisville, Sept. 25.—Scraps of information from Rosecrans lead to the belief that Sherman has joined Rosecrans and that Burnside's corps has most certainly effected a junction. Reports are current on the street that Burnside has been captured but this is not believed.

Yreka, Sept. 26.—John Justice, an old and highly esteemed citizen of this county, was found murdered this morning in his own house on Long Gulch, two miles from town. His safe and doors were all open, and money gone.

New York, Sept. 23.—The following important announcement concerning the iron clad rams in the Mersey appears in the London Morning Herald of the 7th: We are informed that Earl Russell on Wednesday dispatched by written missive a positive order to the Messrs. Laird to prevent these vessels leaving their yards without ample explanation of their destination, and suitable reference to their owner or owners.

It is affirmed, moreover, that the French Embassador has been appealed to as to the possibility of a French subject having ordered vessels of this class of an English shipbuilder. The reply was that no French subject has any legal right to possess or purchase any vessel of war either for himself or in behalf of others. The Secretary of Foreign Affairs is also of opinion that if these vessels are for an individual owner, that individual could only be a privateer or a pirate, and it is on these grounds that the Government has decided the question.

NEW TO-DAY.

U. S. District Court—Third Day.—The Grand Jury returned four indictments into court, endorsed a true bill for cutting timber on public lands, and were discharged from further attendance during this term.

United States vs. Edward Tichenor.—Indictment for cutting and removing timber from public land. Defendant was arraigned and allowed until to-day to plead. On motion of the attorney for the United States, the bail was increased to $5,000. A motion to quash the indictment, because it was found by a Grand Jury of only seven men, was overruled. On motion of counsel for the United States, the case was continued until next term.

United States vs. George Camman. A motion in arrest of judgment was filed but not allowed. The defendant was sentenced to pay a fine of $150 on each of the two counts of which he was found guilty, and to pay costs of prosecution, and to stand committed until the fine and costs are paid. Petition to discharge forfeiture of bail at the May term, and ordered, that the money be refunded when the demands are paid.

In regard to the case of Mr. Camman, it is but fair to state that this prosecution is charged by him to be the result of local quarrels, rather than any desire for securing public justice. No one who has heard the trial, can doubt his integrity, or, perhaps, be at a loss to understand the motives of the prosecution; and if the facts are as stated, it is unfortunate that Courts can be innocently used as the means of venting and gratifying personal spite. The District Court's business has been more lucrative from Coose county than any other in the State, and it looks very much as though it was likely to have free course, run and "be glorified." Indeed, an impertinent officer of the Court remarked yesterday, that the institution would soon be like the penitentiary—a self-paying establishment, and its funds mostly coming from Coose bay.

Common Council met last evening. Present: Lucas, Saxer, Monnastes, Dodge and the President.

Petition of Thos. Carter, asking leave to use one-half of Front street opposite his new building, for building purposes, was granted.

Report of the City Assessor relative to the assessment roll, read and referred to Committee on Ways and Means.

The Committee on Ways and Means reported favorably on sundry bills for repairs made on the engine house of Multnomah No. 2.

Same committee favorably on the following bills, which were ordered paid: D. Wright, Street Commissioner, $82 50; J. F. McCoy, Recorder, $32 80; Wm. B. Clark, Marshal, $...4.

A communication from the Chief Engineer, relative to repairs needed on cisterns, was read and accepted.

The reports of the City Treasurer and the Collector were read and referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The communication of the City Marshal, relative to the indecent and disorderly conduct of Sophia Decker, a saloon keeper on Washington street, was read and referred to the Committee on Health and Police.

Bill of C. H. Myers, read and referred to the Committee on Fire and Water.

Bill of A. B. Hallock, City Surveyor, for $114 75, was read and referred to the Committee on Accounts and Current Expenses

The following bills were ordered paid: J. F. McCoy, $12 80; W. B. Clark, $57 30; H. Boyd, $150; Smith & Davis, $11 25; Estes & Simson, $151 44; Rhoades & Sims, $280 80.

A resolution relative to paying Rhoades & Sims second payment for work on cisterns, as per contract, was adopted.

A resolution was read requiring the President to appoint a special committee to confer with the Gas Light Company, with a view to making a contract with that company to light the street lamps for eight months. Just as the President was about putting the question, Councilor Dodge abruptly left the room, leaving the board without a quorum. The President ordered the Marshal to bring in the absent member, but just as he cleared the door, Councilor Monnastes left. Finding it impossible to get a quorum together again, the members who were left adjourned.

Literary Favors.—S. J. McCormick, of the Franklin book store, placed on our table yesterday, a large and choice lot of pictorials, Harper's magazine for October, and a magazine published in New York by Madame De Marrest, called the Mirror of Fashion. It is filled with cuts illustrating the fashions of the day, and five full dress patterns ready for use. We presume it will become a great favorite with the ladies, and will be a—great expense to loving husbands and papas.

Theatrical.—"Ingomar" was performed last evening to a very good house. Mrs. Hayne as Parthenia, performed the part in a most artistic manner, while Waldron as Ingomar, was all that could be desired. This evening the celebrated play of the "Woman in White," dramatized from Wilkie Collins' much-admired novel of the same name, will be presented. As the novel has been universally read, we are sure that the theater will be crowded, and all who wish to see this celebrated drama had better go at once and engage their seats. This is the last night but two of Mrs. Hayne's engagement.

Sanitary Aid Society.—The members of the Portland Ladies' Sanitary Aid Society are requested to meet at the residence of Gov. Gibbs this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Multnomah Engine Company No. 2.—Regular meeting this evening, at 7½ o'clock.

Remarkable Cure.

BERRY, MONROE Co, (MICH.) Oct. 9, 1852.

Messrs. A. L. Scovill & Co:—In reply to inquiries as to the efficacy of your DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA, justice requires of me to state that, having at times been attacked by a violent contraction of the muscles of the legs, I experienced immediate relief by taking at each time a swallow of the Pain Panacea, direct from the bottle. It is rather a tough remedy, but I have always found the smarting of the Panacea a very happy exchange for the excruciating pains attending cramps in the limbs.

Your obedient servant,

SAMUEL HENDRY.

In Every Age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value, or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than DR. OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague, and eradicates bile from the system is acknowledged by all. Do you prefer a speedy and effectual cure to a regular and scientific run of disease? Try the Cholagogue, and the object is accomplished. Then tell your suffering neighbor what it has done for you, that it may do the same for him.

The President's Proclamation and Slavery

ONE OF LINCOLN'S GOOD THINGS

[From the N[illegible]]

Three or four days since the National Intelligencer quoted several things spoken by Lincoln in conversation during certain discussions of the policy of proclaiming the freedom of slaves, which that journal [illegible] have been "excellently said." We [illegible] have heard of some things [illegible] Lincoln. The day he was [illegible] in regard to the question of [illegible] the slave owners of North Carolina to keep their work people in bondage on the return of that State to the Union, Lincoln is reported to have said in reply, "My proclamation [illegible] the slaves of the rebel States was issued nearly a year ago." Excellently said. There could be no more complete answer to the demand for the continuance of slavery in North Carolina. The proclamation of freedom has been issued, and slavery in the rebel States is annihilated. That ends the matter; there is no longer any room for discussion, and the four columns, however plausibly written, which the National Intelligencer devotes to questioning the policy of the proclamation are as superfluous as a last year's advertisement of the fashions.

The Intelligencer censures those who are for carrying on the war for any other object than to restore the Union. With the leave of that journal, there is yet one object next in importance to the restoration of the Union. It is to keep the Union entire after it is restored. We shall have gained but little if, after having brought back all the States to their old allegiance, we knit them together by ties too weak to hold them under the same Government for ten years afterwards. The experience of this frightful war and the few years that preceded it has shown us that the institution of slavery cannot exist with a free Government. The slave States were becoming so many despotisms within their limits, and, now that they have separated themselves from the free States, have lapsed with a heavy plunge into one of the most remorseless despotisms of modern times. If it were allowable to revoke the proclamation of freedom, if the President could do this without disgrace, if Congress could consent to it without making itself infamous in the eyes of the world, if the nation could submit to it without making itself a byword and a hissing in the mouths of all who speak a written language throughout the world, our own safety, the peace of the Union in future years, the security of our form of popular government, the freedom of speech and of the press, which we so much prize, and without which popular government cannot exist, would oblige us rigidly and with all our strength to insist that the proclamation shall be obeyed and enforced. Would such journals as the Intelligencer have the Union patched up to-day to be sundered in fragments to-morrow? "A Union tied with bands of tow,

There is no way to restore the Union in such a manner as to make the connection between the States permanent, but to go on as the Federal Government has begun, to place the institutions of all the States, as far as possible, on the same basis of universal freedom. That element of discord, that institution inconsistent with all the rest, that repelling force which drives them apart from each other, must be eliminated or there will be no true harmony among them.

The President meditated, his friends say, for more than a year, on the question of declaring the freedom of the working people of the rebel States. He patiently listened to all that could be said both on the one side and the other. When at length he saw himself moved to take that step by the force of various reasons, he hesitated with regard to the proper moment; he feared to outstrip the progress of public opinion; he dreaded the unfavorable effect of a premature measure. At length he issued the proclamation on the 22d of September, 1862, but he issued it with a condition. If any State previous to the 1st of January, says that State paper, shall return to its allegiance and duty, the proclamation shall have no effect within its limits. The President gave them their choice between desisting from rebellion and losing their slaves; they chose rebellion. To such a degree was the President resolved to refrain from touching what they called their rights that he gave them the opportunity to keep those slaves if they would. They preferred to run the risk of losing them. More than three months elapsed, the 1st of January arrived, and not a single State of the South returned to its allegiance. They allowed the slaves to be emancipated.

We would suggest to the journal which is making these elaborate attacks upon the policy of the Administration that a condition thus solemnly offered by the Government and deliberately accepted by the South is not to be set aside as an unmeaning form. The rebel States have made their choice, and we must hold them to it. It is they who have renounced for their citizens, after long, mature, and patient waiting, the right of mastership over their slaves. It does not now, to use a phrase of the bar, lie in their mouths to say to the Federal Government: "When you offered us the alternative between renouncing the rebellion and losing our slaves, we preferred to go on in rebellion, but having now tried it for nearly a year we do not succeed as well as we expected. We will now, if you please, give up the rebellion and take back the negroes. You say that you waited during the term appointed for us to make our choice, and that then, as you had promised, you emancipated them. Never mind that little ceremony. It is only a few million persons whose liberty is concerned, and they are only negroes, who, as Judge Taney will tell you, 'have no rights which a white man is bound to regard.'"

Is there any man professedly a friend of the Union, so degraded in the scale of humanity as to listen to language of this sort without feeling his blood rise warm in his cheek with a sense of insult, or if his emotions be of too chastened a nature for indignation, with a sense of shame and sorrow for human degeneracy?

GEN. BANKS CAPTURED.—The scholars of the public schools in New Orleans recently made Gen Banks a present of a handsome silver service. After the programme of the presentation was exhausted, the delighted audience began to disperse. The little girls, however, made a rush towards the General and completely surrounded him, and he was forced to surrender unconditionally, notwithstanding he made an effort to kiss his way through.

A shrewd old clergyman of the English Church assigned as a reason for not subscribing in aid of the "Society for Converting Jews"—"Gentlemen," said he, "Jesus Christ himself failed to convert that stubborn people by his preaching and miracles, and where he failed, it is too much to expect that you will succeed."

"Jemmie," said one Irishman to another, the first time he saw a locomotive, "what is that snorting baste?" "Shure I don't know," was the reply, "unless it's a steamboat splurgin' to get wather."

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD, Mass. 20th Dec., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your Cherry Pectoral. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints.
EBEN KNIGHT, M D

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, Miss., [illegible]

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.
HIRAM CONKLIN, M D

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, Ia., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, Pa., [illegible]

SIR: Your Cherry Pectoral is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years.
HENRY L. PARKS, [illegible]

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALBION, MONROE Co., Iowa, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, [illegible]

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.
Yours, with gratitude and regard,
ORLANDO SHELBY, of [illegible]

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all round us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these Pills have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use and certificates of their cures of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.
